

Donor for Lillian

Lillian is a happy, joyful 7yr old. Despite having witnessed her brother's childhood leukemia journey, she grew up to be a vibrant and hopeful child. Unfortunately, due to a genetic mutation, Lillian herself was diagnosed with the same disease, AML, in September 2020. She has already gone through 3 rounds of chemotherapy, and is currently inpatient for her 4th round.

Her parents said even when she's receiving treatment at the hospital, Lillian shines through with her brave and hilarious nature. She loves to tell jokes to the medical team to cheer everyone up.

Lillian dreams of becoming a volunteer for children at the hospital when she grows up, just like the ones who are by her side right now. Her best chance for a cure for AML is to have a bone marrow transplant. Will you please help her?

Lillian is of Chinese descent and will likely have a best match from donors of the same ethnic background.
